In the past couple of years, you took a survey as part of a research project done by NORC at the University of Chicago. We are asking you to do the survey again this year. The purpose of the project is to help cut down on violence, bullying, and fighting between young people. We want to make relationships safe for young people. Your continued participation in this study is really important to help us understand how relationships between young people change or stay the same.

The survey will ask you some questions about relationships. It will ask about your behavior, your health, your family and your feelings. The questions will take between 25 and 40 minutes.

There may be some questions that make you feel upset or uncomfortable. If you start to feel this way, you can stop answering questions. There is a link at the bottom of every page in the survey that says “Help.” You don’t have to answer any question that you don’t want to. Also, you can quit the survey at any time. No one will be angry or upset with you if you quit.

[if AGE<18]You can ask an adult in your home if you have any questions about the project. If you have any questions about the survey, you can check the Frequently Asked Questions through a link at the bottom of the screen. You and an adult can also call NORC at 1-866-856-6672 or send an email to youthsurvey@norc.org. If you have questions about your rights as a person in the study, you can call the person in charge of this at NORC at 1-866-309-0542.

[if AGE>=18]If you have any questions about the survey, you can check the Frequently Asked Questions through a link at the bottom of the screen. You can also call NORC at 1-866-856-6672 or send an email to youthsurvey@norc.org. If you have questions about your rights as a study participant, you may call the NORC office in charge of protecting your rights at 1-866-309-0542.

We want you to feel comfortable telling us the truth. So, your answers will be kept separate from your name. NORC and GfK will never tell your parents, family, or friends how you answer the questions. All the answers you give us will be kept private. Even if a court or lawyer asks us for information about you in connection with the survey, we cannot give it to them.

If you and your parent both complete the survey, your household will be given $50 (50,000 points for current panel members). We will also contact you to ask you if you would like to participate in the next round of this study in about a year.
